XF966 THE BEST EGG BELT ON THE MARKET

It is difficult to argue with over 40 years of success. From the first belts we made in 1975, our XF966 Egg Belt has earned the right to be called the best egg belt on the market. Our belt is so unique that the trademark is registered. Many of the first belts installed have outlasted the original equipment. Through the years, we have maintained high quality standards in the XF966 belt and have made improvements as we learned new techniques. During those years, we have seen many egg belt manufacturers come and go.

We now have three times more experience with egg belt than our oldest competitor. XF966 egg collector belt is made of the finest synthetic fiber, specially treated and woven for durability. Our special yarn treatment makes the difference. XF966 can stand up better than other belts to common problems of rodents and everyday snags and cuts. We maintain the largest inventory of egg belt in the world, plus we can ship our stock rolls the same day if ordered by 12:00 PM Eastern time. The durability of our product can turn into dollars for you.

XF966
AMT Egg Belt

Our 8-in and 3 3/4-in XF966 Belts are your BEST CHOICE for Breeder Nest Systems

FEATURES

• UV treated to prolong belt life
• Anti-static treated to repel dust particles and prevent static electricity buildup
• Pre-stretched with heat and tension to reduce stretch in the hen house
• Polyethylene fill yarn is more resistant to ammonia and methane gases than the standard polypropylene yarn used by other manufacturers

ECONOGLIDE EGG BELT

• The most economical belt on the market
• This belt was developed due to customers' request for a less expensive belt intended for breeder houses that change belts after every flock. Users should not expect the same long-term durability of our FeatherGlide or XF966 belts
• Plain Weave egg belt provides maximum support that is also snag resistant
• The weft is polyethylene and warp is polypropylene
• Uses a smaller diameter yarn which decreases stretch

General Guidelines
- If using straps, make sure they are aligned with the winch drum. They will be damaged if rubbing on either side of the drum.
- In most cases, cable is the limiting factor in these guidelines. While the winch has a capacity of 5000 lbs, 3/16 in 7 x 7 cable has a break strength of 3700 lbs. Cable manufacturers recommend suspending no more than 50% of the rated break strength as a working load. This is 1850 lbs for 3/16 cable.

- The maximum pulling capacity of all AMT Winches is based on the first layer of cable on drum.
- The maximum pulling capacity of Dutton Lainson Winches is based on the third layer of cable on drum.
- The maximum pulling capacity is reduced by 10% each layer of cable put on the drum.
- The maximum pulling capacity is reduced by 50% on a straight pull with the drum at full capacity of cable.
- We recommend at least 3 full turns of cable on drum before lifting load.
- We recommend using a double back when load exceeds 50% of maximum pulling capacity.
- We don't recommend using straps when weight exceeds 50% of maximum pulling capacity of the winch.
- The safe working load of a winch is 50% of maximum pulling capacity of a winch with the drum at full capacity of cable.
- We do not recommend operating a winch at more that 50% of the maximum pulling capacity.
