

Vfence™

The easiest ventilated migration fencing system that saves you time and money

Vfence™ is designed specifically for use as a migration fence for the unique needs of the poultry production industry; and the humane treatment of birds.

- Improves airflow and circulation for better temperature control, eliminating hot-spots, resulting in lower utility bills and a healthier, more consistent product.
- Bird friendly design so birds are always visible.
- Stability - The design stays in place without cumbersome stands or stakes saving you set-up time and money.
- Will NOT bow or buckle as birds reach full size.
- Versatility - Easily modify for feeders and water lines.
- Interlocking sections allow for quick set-up without any additional hardware or accessories.
- Stackable design allows for easy storage in a small space or hung on walls for faster changeovers.
- Epoxy Coating – No harmful PVC's as found in other vinyl coated products.
- Durable finish allows easy cleaning.
